

Alabama House of Representatives

Employment At Will

All employees of the Alabama House of Representatives are considered Legislative employees and, as such, are exempt from the career service provisions of the Merit System Law and are considered at-will employees.